

IndigoRunMen is a men's social group that promotes activities and encourages camaraderie among all Indigo Run men. It is a non-profit organization with activities organized around events, clubs and special interest groups.

Events

Our IndigoRunMen events include field trips to regional points of interest and sporting events. IndigoRunMen also sponsors breakfast, lunch or dinner meetings featuring guest speakers on topics of local or national interest. IndigoRunMen events typically require a reservation and payment of an event fee. Although the fee may be different, our events are usually open to all men from Indigo Run, whether they are members of IndigoRunMen or not.

Clubs

Our IndigoRunMen Clubs include common areas of interest such as reading, golf, and cooking. IndigoRunMen members are encouraged to join as many clubs as they wish. Clubs schedule their own meetings and activities. You are encouraged to propose your own club, if there isn't one already. Take a look at this list of our clubs. For scheduled dates and times check the Community Calendar on www.indigoruncoa.org or call the contact person listed below.

Bible Study Club

The Bible Study Club was one of the first clubs established within the organization of IndigoRunMen (IRM). From the very beginning, this club attracted a unique cadre of IRM with an interest in reading the Holy Bible, analysing its texts and evaluating the messages found within the corpus of its writings from a religious, a secular and a non-denominational point of view.

Since its inception, the Club has been guided by Dr. Tim Perkins who has carefully selected passages from both the Old and New Testaments for both personal and group evaluation. Reading and discussions of these biblical texts have provided the Club members with insights into the meaning of Scripture as well as an historical overview of probably how and when the Holy Bible came to be written over the years.

As more IRM members from various Faiths have joined the Club, an increased synergy has developed in relation to interpretations of biblical texts, ever increasing the sense of what the Holy Bible has meant to those raised in the Judeo-Christian principles practiced by the Club members.

Meeting once a month for an hour, with both selected and ad hoc reading assignments, members find a personal and even an ecclesiastical enrichment in their own daily lives.

Contact: Dr. Tim Perkins

The Book Club

Since its founding, the Book Club has been resourceful in selecting, reading and then discussing books of fiction as a literary genre, Membership in the Club has included IRM members from various careers and professions, all of whom have blended into a distinct group of critics... both positive and negative...of the genre.

Books are selected by individual club members on a rotating basis and the book selector usually serves as host for that book's discussion session. Analysis of the corpus of the selected book with plots and sub-plots, protagonists and lesser characters, as well as critical acclaim from literary reviews, or lack thereof, have all shown to be highlights of this Club's activities and modus operandi.

During the past year Club members decided to broaden their literary scope in two different and innovative ways: by adding works of non-fiction to the Club's repertoire, as well as classic works of literature from some of America's iconic literary giants. In widening literary horizons, Club members maintain that additional growth and appreciation of the several linguistic genres will enhance their appreciation and knowledge of good writing as well as provided a significantly meaningful platform for the exchange of thoughts and ideas which will provoke and elicit discussion.

Contact: Ed Farren

Current Events Club

The Club selects topical, current issues from around the world and within the USA that are of importance and interest to the members. The Club encourages members' research to facilitate discussion since its purpose is to learn more about the addressed topic(s) and share diverse opinions and perspectives.

Monthly discussions are held in an ad hoc forum and cover a myriad of local, national and international news and issues. All members are urged to participate fully. Come join us.

Contact: Greg Gillen

The Dining Club

The Dining Club, one of the original clubs formed at the inception of IndigoRunMen (IRM) has been one of the most active clubs within the IRM club system.

Focusing on great food, cooking, wine and conversation, the Dining Club gathers for about six (6) diners each year at member's homes. Since the beginning, the club has incrementally developed into a truly gourmet group of men with epicurean tastes who try different foods from various ethnic and societal groups. Favorite recipes, ideas from gourmet magazines and TV food shows, and food preparation techniques all provide a forum for delightful repartee during the evening. Reasonably priced white and red wines are paired with the evening's different courses. While most of the members prepare food for the events, anyone who has a love for food and wine is welcome to join the Dining Club.

Contact: Dale Stauffer

The Investment Club

Alligator Assets Investment Club (AAIC) is organized as a limited partnership under the laws of the State of South Carolina. All members of IRM with an interest in investing are welcome to join. Presently, there are 15 members, each of whom owns an equal share of the partnership and has an equal vote on all matters pertaining to Club operations.

The AAIC partners collectively manage a portfolio of investments contributed proportionally and equally by them, Assets under management exceeded $200,000 as of December 31, 2012. Active members are obligated to submit additional capital contributions on a quarterly basis.

New members are required to contribute an initial capital contribution equal to the net asset value per partner at the time of their admission.

AAIC meets on the second Tuesday of each month at 9:00 a.m. in the card room of the Golf Club. In addition, each of the Club's four research teams meets once per month at times determined by their respective members.

Contact: Ed Keely

The Shooting Club

The Shooting Club is a newly formed organization within Indigo Run Men (IRM). Its purpose is to provide an athletic sport's forum for members who want to become more confident and proficient in handling a sidearm and firearms, in general.

Meeting times and location for a shooting range, as well as information concerning the purchase of ammunition and/or renting of firearms, can be obtained by contacting Abby A. Petkov.

Contact: Abby A. Petkov

The Golf Club

The IRM Golf Club will organize golf tournaments at local and regional courses, other than Golden Bear and The Golf Club. It will also organize golf outings to area and regional PGA Tour events. These tournaments and outings may last one day or longer.

Activities

Golf Tournaments and Golf Outings

Contact: Jack Conlon

IndigoRunMen Sports Challenge

Let's see how good you are at picking winners of sporting events. Play an IndigoRunMen Sports Challenge and earn bragging rights as the week's IndigoRunMen's Top Game Picker!

Activities

Sports Challenge Rules: Participation is easy! Pick the winners using the odds listed for each game; enter the tie-breaker point total, then submit your picks. IndigoRunMen Sports Challenge events close the day of the first game in that event. Be sure to submit your picks before that Sports Challenge closes. There may be several different Sports Challenge events open; select the one you want to play and click the link for it. Play as many different Sports Challenge events as you would like.

Contact: Robert Smith

Website

The IndigoRunMen website serves as a focal point for our member communications. It offers "one-stop" for information about our members and IndigoRunMen's activities. There is a calendar of planned events along with a membership directory. Every event, club and special interest group has a contact point for additional information. While you're online, you can join a club or special interest groups.

Visit our website often, to find out what's going on with the IndigoRunMen's group

<http://indigorunmen.com>